A photograph of a paved walkway on a college campus during autumn. The trees lining the path are in full fall foliage, with vibrant reds, oranges, and yellows. The sky is blue with some white clouds. In the distance, a building and a few people walking can be seen. The walkway is made of light-colored paving stones and has some fallen leaves scattered on it. There are some stone planters or benches along the side of the path.

Seeds for Growth*

Welcome to An Indigenous Skills for Success Journey: Planting the Seeds for Growth.

Canada's job market is changing rapidly. So is technology — and the economy, too. For those reasons, the Government of Canada has revitalized Canada's skills framework. It launched the Skills for Success model in May 2021.

This project is funded in part by the Government of Canada's Skills for Success program.
